LEMAN, Sept. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Wibur Wright made a crushing answer today to his critics of the last few days by a marvelous flight of one hour and thirty-one minutes and twenty seconds in his airplane.

"We can't stay up without headway, so when the machine swung around in a circle, and the rudder would not work and the engine was stopped—I thought it was grinding us to pieces—I could not see—we began to drop. I heard Selfridge say, 'Oh, oh.'"

But that is not what the Presidential candidate meant. "Auxiliary" implies subordinates, said Judge.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Orville Wright's own story of the tragic fate which befell his airplane at the Fort Myer testing field, resulting in the death of Lieut. Selfridge, U.S.S.C., and dangerous injuries to Mr. Wright himself, was given today by the latter at a public hearing at the New York City Club.

According to the story, Mr. Wright is at a loss to account for the real reason of the fatal termination of what had promised to be a record-breaking flight. The impending coroner's inquest is expected to throw some light on the matter.

SENDING MESSAGES

OPERATES OVER A SINGLE WIRE

The Practical Uses of the Burlingame Telegraphing Typewriter

These machines can do all the work that is being done by the Morse system today in sending messages and press dispatches, and in addition open up many new fields which are beyond the achievements possible by all other machines. Note below many of these new uses and you will see that the world has been waiting for the Telegraphing Typewriter for years.

NEWS TICKER SERVICE. There will be a central station in each city run in connection with a newspaper, or with the Associated Press. In the homes and business places of subscribers will be little receiving instruments weighing only five pounds. Early in the morning the news will be sent out to these homes and business houses all over the city. The news will be very brief—just enough to give the gist of the matter. For example, Telegraph News will be given for two hours. Whatever happens anywhere, just as soon as the news is gathered it will be sent on these machines, and every subscriber will read it as it comes from the machine in his place. The financial news will be given for a while, then the sporting news, the local news and then general news throughout the day and evening. It is believed that there will be more news tickers in use within two years than there were telephones in the first fifteen years, and later, of course, there will be more news tickers installed than all the telephones combined.

PRESS DISPATCHES TO NEWSPAPERS. The Burlingame Telegraphing Typewriter will be built with the same keyboard as the linotype on which the type of all large papers is set. The operator sending the message is in reality setting the type on the linotype in the newspaper office. Immediately upon the receipt of the completed message the type is all ready to make up into page form for going to press. Think of the saving of time, labor and money. All newspapers will eventually receive their telegraphic news in this manner. See what a field there is for the Burlingame Telegraphing Typewriter. There are published today in the United States and Canada alone 2500 daily newspapers.

MISCELLANEOUS USES. For fire and police systems in municipalities, for private wires between factories and offices, for brokers, for railroads, for business institutions, for ships at sea (by wireless) and a hundred other ways that time alone will develop.

DRAW COMPARISONS WITH OTHER INVENTIONS. The Linotype invented by Otto Mergenthaler had a hard struggle at first. Today the company has paid over $20,000,000 in dividends. Bell Telephone was first received with suspicion. Today the company has paid to stockholders over $200,000 for each $100 invested. Same is true of other useful inventions—the trolley cars, Bessemer Steel, air brake, kodak, pianola. All had their beginnings—and all are successful today. So come and see these wonderful instruments transmit messages. Believe your own eyes. Just remember what the great philosopher, Herbert Spencer said: "There is a principle which is a bar against all information, which is proof against all argument and which cannot fail to keep a man in everlasting ignorance; this principle is contempt prior to examination."

THE CITY IN BRIEF

Twist Love and Duty.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

After Bad Money.

Upon a report that bad money is being circulated in Pomona, Secret Service Agent George W. Hansen of this city sent a man there yesterday to make an investigation. Mr. Hansen believes that it is merely a small matter.

Whirled on Shaft.

Blain Ferris, a negro, employed at the Simons brickyard, was painfully injured yesterday, when the belt on a whirling shaft caught his clothes and whirled him around. His shirt was torn from his body and he was thrown clear of the machinery, thus saving his life. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital, having sustained a broken leg.

Death of Mrs. Shover.

Telegrams were received in Los Angeles yesterday from Indianapolis by friends of the family telling of the death in that city yesterday morning of the wife of James E. Shover, a man of affairs and a contractor well known in this city and the Hoosier capital. Mrs. Shover was 58 years old, and besides Mr. Shover, she leaves Miss Clara Shover, survivor.

Breaks His Arm.

Robert Marsh of Robert Marsh & Co., met with an accident yesterday while playing golf at his residence. In running backward to return a high ball, his ankle turned and he was thrown to the ground with sufficient force to fracture the bone of his left arm just above the wrist. The injury, while not necessarily serious, is very painful.

Get Harbor Frontage.

Capt. A. A. Fries, United States Engineer Corps, has obtained permission to fill in a block of tidal land near Wilmington. The application was filed last year, but action was postponed until the harbor lines had been fixed. The proposed fill will have a frontage of about 100 feet, and it is stated that improvements to cost $50,000 will be made.

Talk by Noted Traveler.

The first free lecture in the new Young Men's Christian Association auditorium will be given tonight by Dr. Davidson Buchanan, on "Landmarks of Livingstone," being a story of life in Central Africa. A noted traveler in Africa and Australia, Dr. Buchanan, who is on a visit to friends in this city, will be well qualified to tell the public in an interesting and instructive manner of the exceptional opportunity.

Ask Police Help.

Prosecutor Thomas L. Woolwine, yesterday, notified Chief Kern that the club regarding the closing of bars in all social clubs had been held good by the Superior Court and that he would call on the police to raid all club bars not holding a retail liquor license. There are scores of such clubs in Los Angeles, most of them doing a saloon business and avoiding the retail license. Woolwine promises to close every one.

Chance for Life.

Mrs. Hattie Brent, who was shot through the body, Saturday night, by her husband, was in a slightly improved condition, yesterday, at the Clara Barron Hospital. While the surgeons would give no assurance of her recovery, they stated that she had a fighting chance to survive. She is held at the City Jail and no charge will be filed against him until the woman's condition either takes a turn for better or worse.

Drinks Face Lotion.

Mrs. Blanche Oliver of Ninth and Flower streets, yesterday, drank a mixture of cologne, Florida water and face lotion and had to be treated at the Receiving Hospital. She had been in the habit of taking large doses of medicine. Having a severe headache she went to get a bottle but took up the face compound by mistake and swallowed a big dose of it. At the hospital the stomach pump was applied and she was soon out of danger.

DEATH NOTICE
AS A "JOKE."
GIRL ADVERTISES HERSELF AND ALARMS FRIENDS.

While Announcement of Mr.
Morganster's death in the "Morning Star" was in circulation she was "joking" at a hotel private exchange, promising to be "on hand" this morning.

According to published funeral notice, the modest remains of Miss Laura Morganster will be buried from Broom Bros' chapel this morning at 9 o'clock.

According to Miss Laura Morganster, she will be on duty at the Hayward Hotel this morning at 9 o'clock.

These irreconcilable statements are Miss Morganster's "joke." Miss Morganster, aged 17, is the pretty operator of the Hayward private exchange. Probably fascinated by the story of how Mrs. Stauffer, or some one else, invented people and then killed them off in death notices, as told in The Times, the girl reversed the situation and is trying to see how a post-mortem experience would be to the living.

Sunday afternoon she confided to the clerk of the hotel that he "could read her death notice in tomorrow's papers." He thought little of it until he saw the death notice last night. It stated that Miss Morganster had been "believed" happily at the "phone until 5 o'clock last night, and seemed as lively as a cricket."

When she turned the exchange over to the night operator she left word that if any called her "I am dead." This was her home-stay, possibly to No. 704 West Eighteenth street.

TANGLED.
"SHOESTRING"
VERY KNOTTY.
Residents of Strip Rise Up in Their Wrath.

Annexed Territory Cries for City Benefits
Reign of Terror and Taxes Burden of Lament.

A reign of lawlessness has followed the annexation of the "shoestring" strip; stores and dwellings are robbed with impunity, women are insulted on the streets, and the only city officials who pay attention to the new territory are the Assessor and the poundmaster.

This is the tale of woe that S. M.
Barrett, a resident and property owner of the shoestring, carried to the Council yesterday afternoon. He went before the legislators to ask for some of the benefits which the city confers on other sections.

"We are a part of the city," said representative of residents of the "Shoestring" strip, who assert that the payment of taxes is the only city privilege they get.

Citizen Barrett, "yet we have no city water, no city lights, no fire protection, no police. We think you should extend a more cordial welcome to your new neighbors."

City Attorney Hewitt replied to this by telling Mr. Barrett that the strip has been a part of the city only a few weeks. "We could not act until the decision of the Supreme Court affecting the strip was received," he said.

Barrett then said that conditions are no worse than they were while the strip was a part of the county, outside the city, but that the people think the time has come when they should improve.

"We need water, fire protection and police," he said. "Through the medium of so-called social clubs we are located in a decidedly bad district.
There is a club at Main street and Sierra avenue, where any one can become a member by paying 25 cents.
Drinks are sold to members and some of these terrible fellows who hang around the strip, knowing that there will be no interference by the police."

"The supervisors have made conditions worse by granting a license at Main and Manchester streets, just outside the city limit."

"Drunkard revolvers from these two places ride through the streets in their automobiles and our women are forced to keep within doors. Just a few days ago one of these autos was driven right up to the curb and the occupants tried to force two girls on the sidewalk to enter the machine. The girls screamed for help and the revolvers jumped back into their car and rode away."

"My two daughters keep a store at Sixty-second and Main streets. We can get no street lights there. Within the last six months that store has been broken twice. The burglars simply drive up to the store, break the windows, gather in a wagonload of goods and drive away."

The members of the Council expressed surprise and sympathy at all that the residents of the shoestring. They took turns in assuring Mr. Barrett that the city will lend a helping hand in getting the water in and the foughs out.
A special committee was appointed to argue the case of the residents of the shoestring before the Water Board. A recommendation will be made to the Police Commission that officers be detailed for duty in the annexed territory.

While making these promises the Councilmen sought to impress on the residents of the annexed territory that they have lost nothing by joining the city. Their complaint was that things which they suffer in common with thousands of other citizens living in Los Angeles county, but outside the city.

JUDGE JAMES LEADING.

Local Jurist Favorite With Delegates Who Leave Today to Attend State Convention.

Delegates to the reconvening State convention for the nomination of a candidate to fill the vacancy in the State Supreme Court made by the death of the late Justice McFarland, will leave at 2:35 o'clock this afternoon for the North. Oakland will be reached at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. The delegates expect to be home again by Monday. During the trip the delegates will hold a caucus on the train and agree upon a Southern California jurist to support for the position. All are determined to make a hard fight in the convention for a representative from this part of the State. The Los Angeles delegation is practically unanimous in support of Judge James of the Superior Court, and among all the Southern California delegates Judge James seems to be far in the lead.

RANCH IMPROVEMENTS.
A. N. Kinnett, who recently bought the Ruby Shain ranch, continues to make improvements on the property.
Besides building a five-room frame cottage, a large hay barn and a tank-house, he has sunk three new artesian wells and is planning to install a large pumping plant, as soon as he finds the outlet that will answer his requirements. There is on the ranch a number of old wells, and Mr. Kinnett's idea is to secure an outlet by which he can pump water from several of these at once. As they are some hundred yards apart, it is thought an air com-pressor plant will be the most desirable. From two of his wells, Mr. Kinnett has secured a flow of 150 inches with a testing pump.

W. H. Shain has sold his hay, grain and feed business and barley crusher to J. W. McEuen and Elmer Moore, recent arrivals from Missouri. Mr. Mc-Euen left St. Louis for Missouri to close up his interests in that state.

UPLAND, Sept. 21.—A small frame house on the Hubbard ranch, on East Eighth street, occupied by William Gunn and family, was completely destroyed by fire last evening, together with nearly all the contents. Mrs.
Gunn was in the house with three children, all under 2 years, when her husband telephoned her from Cucum-onga, to stop the men picking grapes in the vineyard. To do this she had to go a considerable distance from the house. When she returned the interior of the small structure was ablaze, and all the children were on the floor, about the gasoline stove, playing. It is thought the fire was caused by a defect in the stove. Mrs.
Gunn had some difficulty in saving the children, and was able to get out but little of the furnishings.

A fire, well up toward the top of Cucumonga Peak, north of this city, has afforded a spectacle for several nights past. It was caused by lightning striking a large dead tree. Rangers went up to quell the flames. The fire was in a difficult place to reach, and so far the men have been unable to subdue it. It is said, however, that it is in a section where little or no damage to the watershed will result.

COLONISTS ARRIVE.
Already a large number of colonists have arrived from the East. There is a brisk demand for property for rent.
The past season has been the busiest house-building time this little city has ever had.

SPIRIT FIST?
BLOOD FLOWS ON GHOST SHIP.

SAN DIEGO SAILOR DOESN'T KNOW WHO HIT HIM.

Officers Find Him With Gory Face and Exciting Story of Being Chased by Bulwheels, Captain Armed With Rifle—Rotten Egg Distributor to Be Examined.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 21.—For a time last night the steam schooner Jennie Thelan furnished the denizens of the waterfront with visions of a bloody tragedy.

When the cries of "murder, murder," rang out, a half dozen telephone buzzed for the police. When officers arrived they found a Norwegian sailor named Hjalmar Nyberg with a gory face and a story that Capt. McDonald of the Jennie Thelan, chased him around the ship with a rifle and that when he grabbed the captain to prevent him from shooting, some one poked him in the face.
McDonald had been taken to the ship earlier in the evening by a patrolman, as he had been drinking. In Police Court the Norwegian sailor will be tried for disturbing the peace.

The Jennie Thelan came into the harbor several years ago as the original of the ghost ship in Jack London's "Sea Wolf." Capt. McDonald now uses the boat in the peaceful pursuit of transporting guano from Mexico.

PROBABLY INSANE.
Allen Blinn, the eccentric old man arrested for distributing rotten eggs in front of stores, and who is believed by the police to be responsible for numerous threats to dynamite prominent citizens, will be tried before an insanity commission.

TARGET PRACTICE BEGINS.
In compliance with general orders of Maj. G. W. Catbush, artillery dis-pounder at Battery Patterson, man-naged by the Twenty-eighth Company. Tomorrow the firing will be continued from Battery Wilcox, in charge of the One Hundredth and Fifteenth Companies. Targets are being fired by the government launch General Delaney.

JURY VIEWS REMAINS.

GIRLS

Most of our ambitious young American girls work too hard at school.

Many teachers have little or no judgment about pushing a child beyond her endurance. They ought to know that girls especially have a danger period. Often, too often, after physical collapse is the result, and it takes years and years to recover lost vitality.

Many a young girl has been helped over this critical period, and been prepared for a healthy womanhood by writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I am only sixteen years old, but I want to tell you that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of all my ailments. I was suffering from indigestion, nervousness, and sleeplessness, and I was in a very bad condition. I had tried everything else, but I was thank you for it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

ham's Vegetable Compound, made

Why don't you try it?

DEATH NOTICE A JOKE.

tal act? Was she already ending the "joke" in the agony of self-destruction?

No, Laura was not. She was at home—somewhere, but not at No. 795 West Eighteenth street. This is the home of Mrs. Minter, with whom, until a week ago, Laura lived. When she moved she left no address. Mrs. Minter said last night she had not seen Laura, but she recognized the death notice as a probable trick of Laura's.

"She's likely to do anything," Laura said. "I think you're a very little foolish girl," said the kind neighbor.

But Laura still thought it a good "joke."

Those who know Miss Morganstern say she is erratic and that some time ago she alarmed all her relatives and friends by running away to San Francisco and causing a worried search for her. Friends are at a loss to explain her eccentricities.
